Your skills can make a difference in the lives of abandoned and disabled children

The work of International China Concern is only possible because of the dedication and commitment of volunteers. People from all parts of the world have chosen to leave their homes to live and work with us in China, lending their skills and expertise to provide care for China's abandoned and disabled.

Physiotherapists, occupational therapists, nurses, educators, pastoral care workers, social workers, doctors, project managers, accountants and administrators. These roles are crucial to carrying out our mission each day.

Your Love, For Life in Action

Long-term volunteers are truly the lifeblood of ICC. If you have a heart for China's abandoned and disabled, consider joining our team to live and work in China.

Volunteers are self-supported through their own fundraising efforts. We ask that volunteers commit to three months at a minimum. But to give you the opportunity to grasp the Chinese language and culture and to make a lasting impact , we prefer at least a two-year commitment.

ICC is a Christ-centered movement of people around the world. Each person carries the heart of ICC, its culture and values as we seek to realize opportunities to transform China's abandoned and disabled. We:

- Advocate for China's abandoned and disabled
- Empower children, staff and partners
- Develop innovative projects and initiatives
- Care for people and manage resources well
- Provide life changing opportunities for service
- Transform through small family environments

Apply today and become the reflection of Christ's love in action.
